Bosch Diagnostics and SPX Corporation's Service Solutions business become "Bosch Automotive Service Solutions"

Dear Mr. Michael Lv,

We are pleased to announce that the Bosch acquisition of the Service Solutions business of SPX Corporation has been completed following regulatory approvals.

The Service Solutions business of SPX Corporation and the Bosch Diagnostics division will be merged in a new Business Unit called "Bosch Automotive Service Solutions" with 4400 employees worldwide, headed by Mr. Tanvir Arfi. The Headquarter will be located in Canton, Michigan, USA.

In order to address the different requirements of the independent aftermarket and the vehicle manufacturers and their workshops, there will be separate organizations focusing on the two market segments. For the time being, your existing contacts will remain unchanged. By combining the strengths of both companies, we will aim to significantly improve the way we are serving you as our customer. During the next months, Bosch Automotive Service Solutions will thoroughly assess ways to further improve customer dedication and ways to serve our customers in the area of workshop test equipment, diagnostics and service solutions.

We are convinced, with our combined know-how and global footprint, we will be able to provide even better solutions and services for you as our customer. As a joint team we will contact you within the next days to present to you further details, receive your feedback, address possible questions and discuss new business opportunities.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Tanvir Arfi', with a stylized flourish at the end.
